Audience:	Students, Practice Education Partners, Faculty and Staff

Preamble

The UBC Dietetics Program is committed to advancing equity, diversity and inclusion for the Program and dietetics profession, as it relates to the Program’s vision of inspiring learners to advance dietetic practice and food systems. Our core values of justice, integrity, inclusion, collaboration, and community-focus drive our approaches to Program planning, delivery, evaluation, and community engagement.

The Program is located on UBC’s Point Grey Campus, which is situated on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territory of the xwməθkwəyəm (Musqueam). Practice education placements take place on the traditional, ancestral and unceded territories of many Indigenous peoples, in locations throughout present day British Columbia. The Program recognizes the original stewards of these lands, and engages in ongoing efforts towards decolonization of the Program and the dietetics profession.

Policy

The Program is committed to the safety and well-being of students, faculty and staff, and affiliated partners involved in the delivery of dietetics education.

In the event that extraordinary circumstances impact the delivery of the Program (e.g., strikes or job action, communicable disease outbreak, natural disaster etc.), Program activities will be adjusted or suspended until the disruption is over.

During an academic or practice education service disruption, students must adhere to applicable UBC and practice education placement site policies and directives. In a labour dispute, students are not permitted to do the work of bargaining unit employees.

The Program will make curriculum modifications as needed, to ensure students can achieve all Integrated Competencies for Dietetic Education and Practice requirements. The Program will make every effort to minimize or avoid delays in Program completion and graduation.
